Steve Young is a powerful motivational speaker that will get your attention, and beckon you to confront existing life issues and challenges. Having finished his first book titled, "Changed Destiny", he is wasting no time to pursue an amazing gift he was led toward, Motivational Speaking.

With a lifetime of challenges and obstacles thrown in his path; Steve has lived what he speaks of, and will address his topic with crystal clarity. You will remember his message and you won't forget his voice.

Drawing from personal experience, Steve Young will make you laugh, encourage you and most importantly, he will make you see yourself in a new brilliant light. His message of hope and unlimited potential will turn the page on a lack of motivation or real life despair. His goal is to invite you to uncover your hidden talents, and empower you to take action.

Allow Steve to Motivate and Challenge you to reach for what you were afraid to dream of, grasp for greatness, and strive to achieve all that you would have never tried before.

Biography of Steve Young

Graduating in the very first class from Apollo High School in 1974, Steve was very focused. His athletic accomplishment included eight varsity sports letters, four Presidential Physical Fitness Awards, All-State basketball player, Team Co-Captain, and was selected as the MVP of his varsity team.

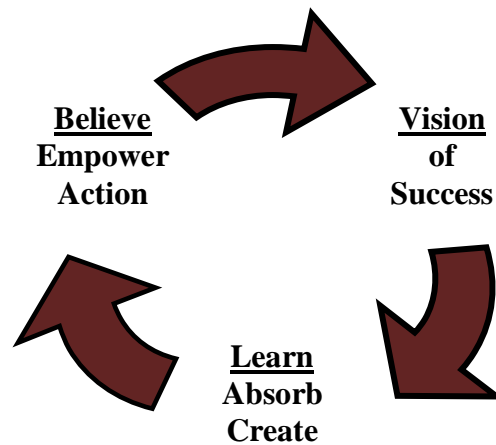

Steve achieved other High School accomplishments in addition to athletics. He was elected as the first President of his FFA Chapter, was a Student Council member, Student Representative to the Owensboro Mayors office, and was elected by the entire student body as Mr. Apollo.

After High School, Steve went on to study Electromechanical Engineering while attending ITT Technical Institute and Business Management at Brescia University. In 1986 he conceived and became President of CCI Executive Search, a recruiting firm that has placed over 200 technical or engineering people with Fortune 500 companies, all over North America. The firm now has locations in Florida and Kentucky.

As a new challenge, Steve learned to perform as a Voice-Over Artist, recording commercials for TV, Radio, and Documentary videos for corporate clients. You may have heard his voice, not knowing it was someone you may have met.

In 1999, Steve's next vision was given life. He conceived his second corporation and became President / Owner of Cowboys of Kentucky Inc. This startup venture grew to be a million dollar, Horse Training / Retail & Rodeo facility, located in Owensboro Ky. Operating from 2000 through 2005, over 20,000 tourists per year visited his facility. Due to his accomplishments promoting Agra-Tourism, Steve was honored as a "Kentucky Colonel", awarded by Kentucky Governor Paul Patton.

After achieving so much, he experienced the most catastrophic change in his life. In thirty days, divorce took everything from him. This caused a new destiny to be discovered and is now being nurtured. Steve has now become an Author of a new book titled "Changed Destiny", and is pursuing a Motivational Speaking career. He has an inspiring story to share from the heart. There will be more books to write, and many powerful speeches to deliver.
